CHRISTIAN SCIENCE
A Lesson-Sermon on "God the Preserver of Man" will be presented Sunday in all Christian Science Churches, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass.
A Bible selection in the Lesson-Sermon includes the following verses from the Ninety-first Psalm: "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty. I will say of the Lord, He is my refuge and my fortress: my God, in him will I trust. He shall cover thee with his feathers, and under his wings shalt thou trust; his truth shall be thy shield and buckler. Thou shalt not be afraid for the terror by night; nor for the arrow that flieth by day; nor for the pestilence that walketh in secret, nor for the plague that desolates at noonday. At thy right hand shall stand the Lord, and he shall smite with his right hand." A correlative passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, states, "Accidents are unknown to God, or Immortal Mind, and we must leave the mortal basis of belief and unite with the one Mind, in order to change the notion of chance to the proper sense of God's unerring direction and thus bring out harmony."

HI SCHOOL HI LIGHTS
By MURIEL BELL
At the annual faculty picnic on Tuesday, the teachers ate chop suey like real Chinamen. The party was held at Point Firmin, with Misses Sherer and Weaver the hostesses.
A delightful banquet was held on the "Ship of Friendship" last Saturday evening in honor of the graduating seniors. It was the annual banquet given by the juniors at the Women's Club House. Lee Her-ring, the captain of the ship, spent the evening joking and keeping his guests jolly. Miss Burnham, the pilot, said she was glad that the voyage was nearly over, not because she has had trouble keeping the boat and its crew going straight, but because she wanted the crew to get out and learn to pilot their own ship. The decorations at the banquet were carried out in the idea of ships. After the banquet Pete Carpenter's famous orchestra furnished two hours of dance music. The boat was a little rocky, and occasionally a couple fell down, but the entire evening was a huge success.

It seems that this column wouldn't be complete without the name of John Young in it. The reason this time is because he has been awarded one of the greatest honors that is given in high school. He has been chosen by nearly all his classmates and faculty to be the most outstanding senior for leadership, scholarship, and citizenship, which makes him an Ephesian.

Last night the first annual G. A. A. banquet was held in the cafeteria. Mildred Holland, this year's president and president-elect for next semester was the toast-mistress. Miss Barkwin, Miss Parks and Miss Glen were the honored guests.
The boys on the tennis team have decided to quit playing double-de-winks and play tennis in earnest. As a result of this change they defeated Narbonne's tennis team on Friday. The boys who played were Leonard Lock, John Young, Glen Tolson, and Stanley Creighton.

Again the girls of the senior class caught fly and hit home runs, making them the victors over the freshmen in an inter-class baseball game on Monday. This is the second game for them, and with only one more to play, it looks like the senior girls will win the inter-class championship in baseball.

LOSING TEAM IS HOST TO BIBLE CLASS

Entertain With Banquet at Women's Clubhouse After Brisk Membership Campaign

J. W. Joos of Los Angeles was the speaker of the evening at the banquet given Monday evening at the Women's clubhouse by the losing membership team of the Torrance Men's Bible class. Mr. Joos was in the District Attorney's office for seventeen years. He chose as his subject, "The work that the Brotherhood has accomplished in civic and moral affairs in Los Angeles County."

Emerson Barksdall entertained with a selection on the harmonica. Herman Hadler gave a violin number, and Lloyd Jones of Harbor City gave three vocal numbers.
Another feature of the evening was a bit of magic performed by G. L. Morris. Morris had announced his intention of saying a few magic words to the banquet table and making it rise in the air. Jake Zimmerman, jokingly called the "Doubting Thomas" of the evening, brought along a pair of wire cutters to cut invisible wires so the table would not rise. However, there were no wires, and Jake as well as others remained to be astounded at the feat.

The women of the Christian church cooked and served the banquet, and decorated the tables beautifully with summer flowers.
Rev. George Elder, teacher of the Men's Bible Class, made a few closing remarks a title end of the evening.

Last night the first annual G. A. A. banquet was held in the cafeteria. Mildred Holland, this year's president and president-elect for next semester was the toast-mistress. Miss Barkwin, Miss Parks and Miss Glen were the honored guests.

SERVING MANY BUSINESSES

Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of the new Ford

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the new Ford is found in its increasing use by Federal, state and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—speed, power, safety, comfort, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using the Ford are the Associated Companies of the Bell System, Armour and Company, The Borden Company, Continental Baking Corporation, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, General Electric Company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Kellogg Company, Knickerbocker Ice Company, Morton Salt Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, The Procter and Gamble Company, and Swift & Company.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks. The Associated Companies of the Bell System use more than eight thousand.

Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs the Ford. Daily, in countless ways and places, it helps to speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford car, its high quality of materials, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing. Beneath its graceful lines and beautiful colors there is a high degree of mechanical excellence.

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the car and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance. Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release, fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, Rustless Steel, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, through large production, give it to the public at low cost.
